Care Circle editorial questions and an invitation to contribute

Help shape the reporting with a question or documented experience.

We want this programme to reflect what providers are actually experiencing. Are you waiting for a supplier answer? Trying to understand an old alarm connection? Working with several organisations? Or have you found a clear way to explain a complicated decision to your team?

You can send Care Circle Network a question or an experience you are willing for our editorial team to review. It may help shape future reporting. We will not identify you, your organisation or a resident in published material without the necessary checks and agreement. Do not send resident names, diagnoses, personal care records, passwords or confidential technical configuration through the enquiry routes.

Ask Care Circle a question

Request specialist support

These are different actions. A question submitted for editorial consideration must not be automatically supplied to a commercial partner. Any transfer for a specific requested introduction requires a clear explanation of the recipient and the information being shared, with explicit permission.
